Before the names begin

A LETTER TO THE WHOLE SCHOOL

Dear teachers and staff of St. Mary's Academy — this little book is my thank-you card to all of you. It began as a website, but a website cannot be handed across a desk, so here it is on paper too: all 83 members of our school, group by group, each with a thank-you written for them personally. Where you taught me, I have tried to say exactly what you did; where you did not, I have said it anyway, because the work you do reaches every corridor in this building.

35 of the cards that follow carry a note written from memory rather than from a template — those are the truest lines in this book.

“A teacher takes a hand, opens a mind, and touches a heart.”

HOW TO READ THIS BOOK

01 Find the section

Nine sections, in the order of the staff list — the ribbon on each divider carries its number and colour.

02 Read a card

Name, role, qualification and subjects, then the thank-you written for that one person — nobody shares a card.

03 Keep to the end

The sealed letter and the gratitude wall close the book, and the last page says how it was made.

For every teacher of St. Marys Academy

Dear Teachers,

Today isn't just another date on the calendar — it's the day we finally get to say what we feel all year round. Thank you. Thank you for every lesson that went beyond the textbook, for every “one more time, let me explain” when we just weren't getting it, and for every smile that made a tough day easier.

You didn't just teach us subjects — you taught us patience, kindness, discipline, and the courage to raise our hands even when we weren't sure of the answer. You saw potential in us before we could see it in ourselves.

The chalk dust settles, the bell rings, the classes end — but what you have given us stays forever. Wherever life takes us, a part of every success will always belong to you.

Happy Teachers' Day! May your day be as wonderful as you make ours, every single day.

With love and gratitude,

Pavit Singh

P.S. — Every card in this book was written for one person only. If your card is missing a line, it is because I could not decide which of the many things you did was the one worth printing.

ONE BOOK · 83 PEOPLE · ZERO FORGETTING

This book is printed from the same data as the website: `js/data.js`, generated from `staff.csv`. Add a name to the CSV, re-run the site generator, then run `tools/build_staff_pdf.py` again — sections, page numbers and the contents list all re-flow themselves.

Portraits are the watercolour paintings in `images/` and `assets/staff-cards/`, cropped into circles at build time. Every wash, ribbon, seal and piece of confetti is drawn as a vector, so all 29 pages stay crisp at any print size.

On the website each teacher's page hides four surprises; here the secret is simpler — every single person in this list was thought about while their page was being laid out.

Thank you for everything.
